

Overview

Lidarr is a free and open-source media management tool that can automatically download, organize and manage your music collection. Organize your existing collection, add new artists from MusicBrainz or import lists to keep up-to-date. Always be sure that your media has the correct metadata for your Plex or Jellyfin media server.

- Connects to Prowlarr to aggregate Usenet and Torrent queries to multiple sources into one unified search result.
- View all of your upcoming albums on a calendar and export it for your calendar app.
- Perform automatic searches to find media within your specifications, or manually search through the results.
- Blacklist any failed downloads and Lidarr will search for a different download.
- Add a single album to your library, or make sure you have every album from that artist.
