Overview

Radarr is a free and open-source media management tool that can automatically download, organize and manage your movie collection. Organize your existing collection, add new movies from the TMDb or import lists to keep up-to-date. Always be sure that your media has the correct metadata for your Plex or Jellyfin media server.

- Connects to Prowlarr to aggregate Usenet and Torrent queries to multiple sources into one unified search result.
- View all of your upcoming movies on a calendar and export it for your calendar app.
- Perform automatic searches to find media within your specifications, or manually search through the results.
- Blacklist any failed downloads and Radarr will search for a different download.
- Add a single movie to your library, or make sure you have every one from that collection or movie series.
